Dear Clive,

I am writing to thank you for the ongoing help and support you give to my company Safeclean. This most recent example of this was following the failure of a drive in my main computer.

Thankfully I had taken your advice and allowed you to provide me with a foolproof backup solution for the data held on the drive. I remember the blind panic I had the last time this happened and the poor service I received from the previous company we used resulting in the loss of vital data and not insignificant cost in time and money restoring what we had in paper record to rebuild our systems.

This time the whole process went like clockwork and Martin your service technician was thoroughly efficient resolving the errant drive in just over an hour. He is clearly an asset to your company ensuing that I can continue to recommend the services of Octagon with complete confidence.

Yours sincerely

Richard Poole
